WINE THIEF KILLS A PRIEST

ULSTER TAKES FRIENDLY STEP TOWARD DUBLIN

Leaders Recognize New Irish State.

By A. W. STEWART.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright 1922 by The Chicago Tribune.)

BELFAST, Jan. 27.—Sir James Craig,

the Ulster premier, behind closed doors expended for forty-five minutes today at the annual meeting of the Ulster

Unionist council regarding his agreement with Michael Collins and won a complete victory. It had been half expected that there would be more or less opposition to the northern premi-er's action, which he had taken on his own initiative, but Sir James in a short speech disarmed criticism and won ninety-nine of the delegates with him in justifying the course he is pursuing.

Sir James' speech was a personal triumph and he left the meeting confident that he would receive support for other conferences with southern representatives.

The action of the Unionist council, which dominates all departments of the Ulster government, is a virtual negotiation of the Irish Free State and a community of interest therewith.

Speech of Craig.

Craig in his speech defended his action in conferring with Michael Collins saying that he would be lacking in duty if he did not seize every opportunity for doing what he thought was right to discover the policy of the Free

State toward Ulster. He thought it right to meet face to face the man who holds the fate of the south and had in his hands.

He told the audience that he and

Mr. Collins had discussed for three hours questions on which the future of the entire country rested.

What He Said to Collins.

"I said to Mr. Collins, can we come to some agreement now which would alleviate the horrors of the past, calm the people and encourage the best elements of all Ireland, and then leave the road open to some future time for the Ulster people to choose whether they will go into a free state? It is for you to decide—on coercion, irritation or war. Do not let me interfere, but let me know what I have got to do."

James stated that when he entered the conference he had no idea of coming to any specified signed agreement, but as time went on both saw their opportunity and put their joint names to the document that was an admission by the free state that Ulster was an entity of its own, and that helped Ulster remove the feeling that it was impossible to deal with the south.

Ulster, Sir James said:

"I believe our meeting will help the southern government in its efforts to restrain the notheads."

Ulster on Boundary.

Sir James promised that an agreement on the vexing boundary question would be reached and declared that he had secured a promise that the Ulster regiments would not be scrapped. He was Ulster probably would take over the post office and other public offices at the request of the British government. A Royal Ulster constabulary will be established, he announced.

Coming, the premier said: "Ulster can win, but not coerced. We wish to build an Ulster that will be the very soul of the south."

The general opinion here is that today's declarations indicate that the council of Ireland, as created by the 1920 act, will be abolished and that there will be many conferences in the future between the heads of the north-and southern governments.

Ulster will see the shipyard men tomorrow regarding the reabsorption of Catholic workmen.

IRISH TROOPS MOVE IN

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

DUBLIN, Jan. 27.—The Irish republican army is taking over the military

The officers and cadets of the university and college training corps at Galway have taken possession of Len-key castle, vacated by the auxiliaries.

The new occupants are giving their first ball on Wednesday.

The disembarkation of the 5,000 auxiliaries recruited in England during the last two years to strengthen the Royal Irish constabulary, which was resigned and Sinn

Fein sympathizers, will begin on Wednesday.

STUDENT GETS TWO

Two alleged burglars were captured early this morning by Robert Birkin, former University of Chicago baseball star, as they were leaving the Sigma Alpha Delta fraternity house at 3807 Harper avenue.

They are: Hubbard Hunt, 21, said to be a student of the Valparaiso university, Valparaiso, Ind., and Clive Latta, 19, San Antonio, Tex.

They were taken to the Hyde Park station, where they are being held pending an investigation. They told the police they were visiting friends in the fraternity house.

STEWART ESTATE ACCOUNTS FIXED, ATTORNEY SAYS

New York, Jan. 27.—Leander H. La Chance of Chicago and Martin Taylor of New York today were charged with padding accounts and multiplying transactions in order to increase their commissions to $500,000 as administrators of the estate of John K. Stewart, speedometer manufacturer, who after rising to power cast off his original name of Terence O'Brien.

The charge was made by Robert B. Homan, 26, his daughter's husband, Mrs. Robert E. Homan, Jr., of Chicago, in approving a motion before the appellate division of the Supreme court to make permanent a stay against orders recently issued by Surrogate Peletier of Suffolk county, removing La Chance and Taylor as guardians for Mrs. Homan, who is 20 years old. The court reserved decision on the motion.

BOOMERANG FOR G. O. P. IN BONUS A LA SALES TAX

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Opposition to a sales tax as a means of financing the soldiers' bonus was expressed by Representative Fread of Wisconsin, Republican member of the ways and means committee, in speech today in the house.

"We were told by the executive that there would be no shifting of taxes, but instead a lifting of taxes," said Mr. Fread. "Now the proposal is to impose a consumption tax which will mean a shifting of taxes."

"If you impose a sales tax, you will lose a lot of members of this house, just as they have in Canada. The people will resent it. In Canada the sales tax has been condemned by the labor party and by agriculture. It led to the overthrow of the party in power."

$12,000 IN JEWELS FOUND IN CAB BY TAXI CHAUFFEUR

Sam Mandell, 1108 North Ashland avenue, driver for the Yellow Cab company, ought to suit Diogenes' idea of a real guy. After taking Mrs. A. A. Schlesinger, wife of the millionaire president of the Steel and Tube company of America, from the Blackstone hotel to the La Salle street station, where she left for the cab, Sam discovered a jewel case inside the cab. Opened, it contained some $12,000 worth of jewelry. Sam clapped the cover down and drove with it to the cab company's office where he turned it in to the lost and found.

Auto Crashes Kill Man and Boy; Injured Priest

The Rev. Fr. Anton Kozewicz of the St. Stanislaus Roman Catholic church, 1433 Laramie, was severely injured yesterday when he was struck by an automobile at Astor avenue and Julian street. The machine was driven by Albert Krause, 2307 Diversey avenue. Krause is being held.

Jack Bennett, 3425 West Fulton street, was killed, and Herbert Nelson, 342 N. Lombard avenue, Oak Park, seriously hurt in a crash at Madison street and Kenilworth avenue, Oak Park. Joseph Sadiek, 5 years old, 4345 South Marquette avenue, died shortly after being hit by an automobile while he was playing in the street in front of his home.

ROGUE CHECK MAN BOOKED. William C. Sharkey, 2657 Wrightwood avenue, was booked yesterday on charges of passing worthless checks after being identified by twenty victims.

MAILS USED FOR BIG SHIPMENT OF GUNS, JUDGES SAY

Ordinances Here and in New York Evaded.

The judges of the Superior court, delving into statistics of homicides, robberies with guns, and sales of guns in Chicago and Illinois, yesterday uncovered startling facts.

They found that in order to evade the city ordinances of Chicago and New York covering sales of weapons and still maintain a flourishing traffic, the dealers were using the United States mails for wholesale shipments.

Pay the Postman.

Chicago dealers would advertise in New York. "Guns for sale cheap—don't send money—just pay the postman." The order from New York would be sent here. The guns would be sent to New York—C. O. D. parcel post. New York dealers did likewise.

There isn't a federal law—yet—prohibiting such transportation. One is pending in the United States senate. "We should worry," one dealer said yesterday. "As long as we don't sell guns in Chicago to any one without a permit—we can send them anywhere. Now it's fifty-fifty between the New York dealers and us. We get their trade—they get ours."

In England, the judges found, there is no such prohibition by law. "Don't wait. Order this bargain to-day. Write to us and we'll send you to order. Send us your money back. Send for free catalog."

WRITS ARE ASKED FOR WITNESSES IN JANITOR'S TRIAL

Intimating that several of their most important witnesses have been intimidated and refuse to testify, Special Prosecutor Edwin J. Raber and Assistant State's Attorney Ernest J. Hodges, who are prosecuting William C. Quesse, president, and nine other officials of the Chicago Flat Janitors' union, yesterday asked Judge John A. Swanson for writs of attachment for two of them.

The writs, which are returnable Monday, accuse John Scully, 647 Junior terrace, former alderman, and Samuel Olson, 7645 Sheridan road.

"Both these men can tell of efforts on the part of the officials of the janitors' union to 'shake them down,' said Mr. Hodges. "Scully was fined $240 by the janitors, but didn't pay, while Olson was fined $3,000 and paid $1,000. They willingly told their stories to the state's attorney, but now, for some reason or other, refuse to come in and testify. They are both in Chicago, however, and we will bring them in on the writs."

Last year alone in Chicago 246 met death by bullets—almost as many in Chicago, with its population of 3,000,000, in one year as in England and Wales, with their population more than 36,000,000, in ten years.

Judge Urges Death Penalty.

Yesterday, in Brooklyn, Judge Franklin Taylor, speaking from the bench, urged the death penalty for robbers with guns.

The recent reign of crime has the nation by the ears," he said. "Means must be found to stop it. If the existing penalties are not sufficient, the death penalty should be provided for such crimes. There should be no mercy in such cases."

The twenty Chicago judges now in the vanguard of the campaign for anti-pistol legislation plan the drafting of a bill upon which the Illinois state legislature will be asked to pass and which prohibits not only the manufacture and sale of guns in Chicago and the state, but the transportation of them from outside states. In addition, advocacy of similar legislation of national scope is to be carried on, it was announced.

NOTE TO EUROPE: UNCLE SAM IS FROM MISSOURI!

Won't Help Till Sensible Spirit Replaces Hate.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING
Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The United States has halted consideration of all plans for American participation in the affairs of Europe pending developments.

The next move is Europe's, and Uncle Sam is waiting "to be shown." European nations ardently desire the aid of the United States, the richest and most benevolent power in the world, for their rehabilitation. America wants a speedy and unqualified agreement on the program of the arms conference to stabilize peace in the Pacific and reduce the burden of armaments.

How to Get Our Help.

If Europe wants the United States to entertain seriously the invitation to the Genoa economic conference and other proposals for the participation of America in the affairs of Europe, she will join the United States at once in the effort to bring armament conferences to a successful conclusion.

This is the attitude of the Harding administration, learned today from an authorized source.

The work of the arms conference is practically completed and the windup is expected next week. A vast program of agreements on the reduction of naval armament and the settlement of far eastern questions has been approved in the conference committee, but the major proposals are yet to receive formal approval by the conference in plenary session.

America Grows Wary.

It is not too late for nations to modify tentative agreements by forcing changes in the text of the formal treaties and other understandings. This has been attempted in numerous instances and in some cases has succeeded.

Consequently the administration has grown extremely wary. It prefers to see the arms conference agreements signed and sealed and the delegates on their way home before it takes any other undertakings under consideration.

Even if Europe comes through in the arms conference to the satisfaction of the United States it does not follow that America will participate in an European economic conference — at least for several months. The President would prefer first to see the conference treaties ratified by the senate, and then the decision would turn upon the attitude of Europe toward the balancing of their budgets and the adjustment of German reparations.

U. S. Feelings Have Altered.

The attitude of the administration toward assisting Europe has undergone a change during the conference. This is due somewhat to the action of France in putting a crimp in Mr. Hughes' naval reduction program.

Secretary of Commerce Hoover was the leading exponent of American participation in the rehabilitation of Europe. He now counsels the utmost caution. Hughes is against American participation in the allied commission on German claims. No move has been made to provide for an American member of the reparations commission.

Presently there is a demand that the four-power Pacific treaty and other agreements growing out of the arms conference will be ratified by the senate with little delay.

Deny Harvey Is Envoy.

It is denied both at the White House and at the state department that Col. George Harvey, ambassador to Great Britain, had been instructed to visit Paris and interview Premier Poincaré and other important French officials on the subject of the Genoa economic conference.

The published report from London saying Ambassador Harvey was to fulfill such a mission was declared to be inaccurate and without basis.

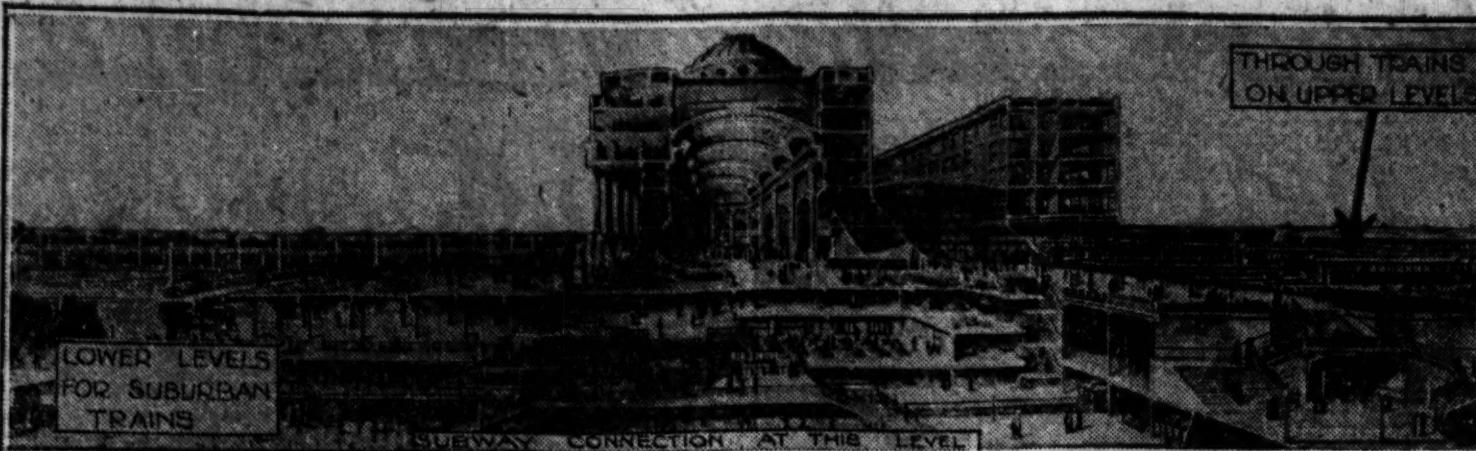

"No such instructions had been sent him," it was declared.

PARIS, Jan. 27.—Ambassador Harvey arrived in Paris this morning en route from Cannes to London. It is expected that M. Poincaré will give Mr. Harvey certain assurances on subjects that France will consent to

HOW I. C. PLANS AID SUBWAY

Cross section of proposed new Illinois Central terminal at Roosevelt road, showing the three levels upon which trains will be operated in and out of the station.

3 Level Station

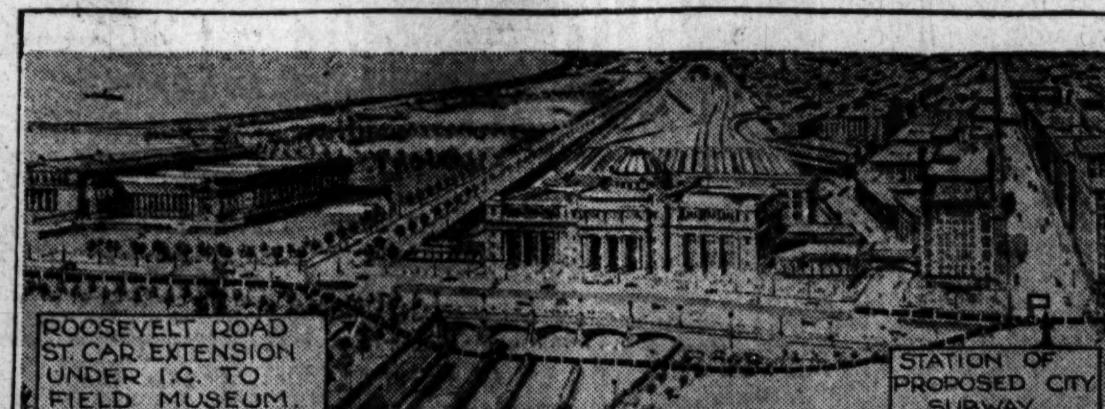

The new station of the Illinois Central railroad at Roosevelt road will have three levels. The top level, about thirty-four feet above the surface of the lake, will provide twenty-seven stub tracks for long distance and through passenger trains. Below that will be a level for baggage, express, and other like purposes.

On the third level will be space for twenty-three more stub end tracks and also for six other tracks, running through the station to Randolph street, probably Van Buren street, and perhaps at other points where public convenience will be served.

Right of way through Grant Park for this purpose has been obtained.

Below the third level down, the city has the right to build a subway for street cars on Roosevelt road surface cars that may reach the Field museum.

These cars will dip about twenty-four feet below the lake level. The dip will start at a proposed subway station, thus connecting the I. C. terminal with transit facilities to all parts of the city.

COUNCIL FINDS POLITICS RUINED MUNICIPAL SHOPS

Bad Management Also Blamed.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

"Management and politics" made the municipal shops a failure which resulted in closing them down. That was the view expressed yesterday by the council finance committee and representatives of ten unions, and both also agreed in general that union labor was not to blame.

"Some of the reasons for the trouble," said Chester Sample of the mechanics' union, "are that the warehouse put an overhead charge of 25 per cent on all jobs turned out; management was not efficient; men were put to work with nothing to do."

"The shops had too many deadheads. Let me illustrate. There was nothing for the crane man to do. He was laid off. But he was put back to work and his hardest job was sitting in the crane and reading the news paper."

Cost About $9,000.

"Here's another illustration. A dump was to be hauled away which the foreman estimated would cost a total of $250. They started in hauling that dump away. Two or three men, a truck, and a chauffeur were employed."

"They are still hauling and the cost to date is around $9,000. Another reason why the trouble arises: We are told that the power and light bill is $50,000. No concern could stand up under such charges."

Mr. Sample, John Fitzpatrick, president of the Chicago Federation of Labor; Oscar Nelson, vice president; Ed Urban of the pattern makers, and Charles Fry of the machinists urged that the shops continue. Ald. Richard Woolhull, Clark, and others said they wanted the idea to succeed and had gone a long way to make the shops a success.

Tales of High Prices.

"Why did you recommend that the factory be closed?" was asked City Engineer Murdock. He replied: "I asked for bids on hydrants. The shops bid $100 each, while outside they could be purchased for $52.60. That is a sample of the prices asked by the shops."

One union leader asserted that the aldermen have some responsibility for the failure of the municipal shops because the aldermen appropriated for the deadheads.

DEFENSE RESTS; ARBUCKLE CASE NEARS THE JURY

San Francisco, Cal., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Roscoe Arbuckle's attorneys closed their case this afternoon after Attorney Milton Cohen had called Deputy District Attorney U'Ren as a witness for the defense.

Cohen said it was some time after E. O. Heinrichs had gone into the St. Francis hotel—the "finger print door," which stands back of the judge's desk, "Exhibit 14" in the case of the People vs. Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter in the death of Virginia Rappé.

U'Ren said it was some time after Heinrichs had gone into the room and made his examination.

Heinrichs was called in rebuttal by the state and the finger prints were again identified, compared, and discussed.

Mrs. Katherine Fox, 840 East 51st street, Chicago, who says she knew Virginia Rappé never had an ache or pain or a sick day in all her life, was on the stand when court adjourned. The case may go to the jury Wednesday night.

Cost About $9,000.

"Here's another illustration. A dump was to be hauled away which the foreman estimated would cost a total of $250. They started in hauling that dump away. Two or three men, a truck, and a chauffeur were employed."

I. T. T. LINCOLN, NOTED GERMAN SPY, HELD IN N. Y.

Slipped Into Country Without Permit.

New York, Jan. 27.—Ignatius T. T. Lincoln, son of the noted German spy and former member of the British parliament, was taken into custody in lower Manhattan today by an agent of the department of justice.

Lincoln was arrested in Brooklyn in 1915, at the request of the British government, he escaped. He was later extradited to England as an undesirable, where he was sentenced to three years in prison and then deported to Germany.

He was charged by the German government last October with the Kapp rebellion, one of whom had been bought since March, 1920. A reward of $50,000 marks was offered for his arrest. He previously was expelled from Austria for his activities after being acquitted of a charge of high treason and forgery.

Bone Immigrant Law.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Ignatius T. T. Lincoln, son of the noted German spy and former member of the British parliament, was taken into custody in the sordid affair of the immigration service of the department of labor for surreptitious entry into the United States in November, last.

Officials said that Lincoln had made several attempts to return legally to this country after his deportation from England to Germany, but was denied the necessary permission.

Records of the department of justice show that he came to this country prior to the entry of the United States into the world war and after he had been accused of spying in England.

Lincoln was born in Austria, but later became a naturalized British subject and a member of parliament.

MRS. ROBBINS TO ASK U. S. COURT'S AID TO GET BOY

Girl "Kidnaper" Freed by Ogden Police.

Thwarted twice yesterday in her battle for her son, Mrs. Mary Robbins, 4055 North Winchester avenue, divorced wife of Cutler H. Robbins, son of George E. Robbins, former vice president of Armour & Co., has by no means given up the fight, her attorney, Myron G. Leonard, announced last night.

Although the state's attorney's office refused to issue papers necessary to extradite Miss Frances MacLane, accused by the mother of having kidnapped a year old George E. Robbins III, and taken him across the continent, and arrested at Ogden, Utah, and although her trip to Judge Thomas J. Lynch's court to have her husband held in contempt for nonpayment of alimony was delayed, she will, next try the federal courts.

"We will institute habeas corpus proceedings through the federal court," Mr. Leonard declared, "to make Robbins relinquish his custody of the boy and turn him over to the mother."

Ogden Police Release Girl.

CHARLES S. PETERSON, Brundage-Deneen association, accepted the proposal of Sanitary Trustees Matthias A. Mueller and James H. Lawley, but also of Coroner Hoffman as the candidate for sheriff and of George K. Schmidt for member of board of assessors.

Mr. Crowe's basis of negotiation is not only acceptance by Deneen and Brundage faction of Sanitary Trustees Matthias A. Mueller and James H. Lawley, but also of Coroner Hoffman as the candidate for sheriff and of George K. Schmidt for member of board of assessors.

Crowe Seeks Harmony.

No exchanges of propositions were made in a formal way, the state's attorney's private being made in a statement made to the newspaper.

"Our position is," Mr. Crowe said, "that Mr. Deneen and Mr. Brundage, in the interest of party success, will make some move to harmonize the factions to put up a united ticket and to present a united front against the common enemy, the city hall. Our men stand ready and willing to enter into negotiations that have for their object the success of the Republican party."

Meantime the Brundage and Deneen leaders reached an agreement to slate Charles S. Peterson, 1450 Lake Shore drive, for president of the county board. Mr. Peterson, a former member of the board of education, had not accepted last night.

Democrats in a Row.

Meantime the Democrats, who had started out harmoniously to make an organization slate, were in a shopping fight within their committee of fifteen, which became a committee of seventeen yesterday, when voting power was conferred upon Chairman Dailey and Secretary Cross of the managing committee. The seven who went to the first test vote over the candidate for president of the county board. This was the result:

President Daniel Ryan.....6
Alf Anton J. Cernak.....6
Senator Edward J. Hughes.....1
Henry A. Zander.....1
Not voting.....1

The seventeenth adjourned with a proposition before them of sending the offices of president of the county board and County judge to a wide open primary fight and to proceed to the naming the rest of the county slate, suspending these two jobs.

SHANTUNG ISSUE

ABOUT SETTLED; MEETING TO END

China May Buy Back R.R. in Five Years.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—[Special.]—The Shantung problem, which has been holding up the Washington conference, is practically settled. The Chinese delegation is ready to accept compromise proposals that have been made for the return of Shantung provinces to China by Japan and for the purchase from Japan of the Shantung railroad.

Next Monday it was declared, the negotiations between the Chinese and Japanese delegates will be concluded, and preparations are being made for sending the announcement throughout China.

China May Pay in Five Years.

The railway settlement is said to provide for purchase of the Shantung project by China from Japan by money to be furnished by Chinese bankers, to be paid within fifteen years, with the privilege of paying the whole sum within five years. China, it was declared, would act on the option and make the entire payment in five years, at the end of which time she will assume complete control of the railroad. In the meantime, the general director of the Shantung railroad shall be named by the Chinese, but the traffic management and general accounting will be shared by the Japanese and Chinese.

The United States of America, the British empire, France, Italy, and Japan have agreed:

"That a commission (as described) shall consider the following questions:

"(a) Does international law adequately cover new methods of attack or defense resulting from the introduction or development, since the Hague conference of 1899, of new agencies of warfare?

INCORPORATION OF LABOR UNIONS URGED IN SENATE

U. S. Regulation of Coal Industry Sought.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—Recommendations that statutes be enacted to compel the incorporation of labor unions and that there be set up a code of laws and a federal agency for regulation of the coal industry, affecting employees and employers alike, were made to the Senate today as a result of the investigation by its labor committee into the West Virginia coal

KENYON. (TRIBUNE Photo.) Chairman Kenyon of the investigation committee was author of the proposal for a federal regulation bill and the suggestion for obligatory incorporation of unions came from Senators Phipps [Cole], Warren [Wyo.], and Sterling [S. D.], all republicans.

Must Enforce Ruling.

"Support of Senator Kenyon's proposal was given by the three senators, but they declared that unless incorporations were forced the agency he would set up would have no legally responsible body with which to deal. There was doubt, they added, whether the plan would avail anything without

"As a matter of fact," the statement of the three senators continued, "the conditions made it safe to do, when wages were low or when men were badly needed these contracts were broken by the employer and there was no redress, while at the same time the operators were liable for the full performance of their contracts to deliver specified quantities of coal at prices at which they had been sold."

Mystery of Union Funds.

The assertion also was made that under the present method of handling labor organizations' funds "the great body of union men never know what becomes of the dues they pay into the general fund."

Under Senator Kenyon's plan the right of both operators and miners to organize is recognized, as is collective bargaining, but the right of a non-union worker to toll is insisted upon. A "living wage" is demanded for unskilled labor, skilled labor's pay ranging upward with the unskilled man's pay as the base. Women are given the right to work and the same pay as men. Child labor is forbidden. Six days of eight hours is the standard. Arbitration must precede any strike or lockout.

MOTHER SEEKS DAUGHTER.

The Tribune has learned that Victoria Sue, 20 years old, who has been missing from her home at 904 West Erie street since Wednesday. Her mother believes she may have left the city. The girl was ambitious to become a movie star.

It pays to concentrate on a market that added 296,633 to its automobile registration in 1921

IN 1921, while several states were dropping off in automobile registration and others were standing still, the five states of the Chicago Territory made an enormous increase. From a total of 2,055,814 cars in 1920, the figure jumped in 1921 to 2,352,447 in Illinois, Iowa, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin. This was in the face of the worst agricultural and industrial depression experienced in many years and proved that the buying power of the Chicago Territory is strong enough to weather any situation.

NEARLY 300,000 automobile owners were added to this territory in 1921. Not one of the five states showed a decrease. Note these astonishing figures which give the automobile registration by states and the increase in the Chicago Territory in 1921:

State	1920 registration	1921 registration	Increase in 1921
Illinois	575,041	670,453	95,412
Indiana	332,707	400,342	67,635
Iowa	440,105	460,654	20,549
Michigan	412,717	477,037	64,320
Wisconsin	295,244	343,961	48,717
Total.....	2,055,814	2,352,447	296,633

Figures secured from official in charge of automobile registration in each state

IT is hard to conceive of a zone which offers more opportunities to the manufacturer of automobiles. Here is a market which not only weathers successfully a bad year but buys many millions of dollars' worth of automobiles. It is a fine field for the manufacturer of accessories, who reaches the owners of 2,350,000 automobiles and the majority of the manufacturers as well.

CONCENTRATED in one-eleventh of the area of the United States, the manufacturer may reach one-sixth of the population, which owns one-fifth of the wealth. And The Chicago Tribune goes to one family in every five throughout Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, and Wisconsin.

THE people of this territory look to The Tribune for their automobile advertising. The Tribune carried more than 37 per cent of all the automobile advertising in Chicago newspapers in 1921 and almost as much as the next two papers combined.

IN using The Tribune, the manufacturer has the advantage not only of concentrating his sales effort, of advertising where he has distribution, of reaching more people for less money—the obvious advantages of newspaper advertising—but he builds up the morale of his organization and secures more than ever the good-will of his distributors who sell cars with that kind of support from the manufacturer.

ROME EXPECTS DARK HORSE AS NEW PONTIFF

Cardinals Are Divided on Future Policy.

BY LARRY RUE.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright: 1922. By The Chicago Tribune.
ROME, Jan. 27.—Cardinals are arriving daily to attend the conclave at the vatican which will elect a successor to Pope Benedict XV, but the announcement that Cardinals begin of Quebec, Albuquerque of Brazil, Von Skrbensky of Olomus and Misstraneo of Florence are not coming reduces the attendance to 200 men, four less than originally expected and seventeen less than the full college.

Cardinals O'Connell and Dougherty from America are both expected, but it is feared that they cannot arrive before the opening of the session on Feb. 2.

Newspapers generally look for a compromise candidate as both the liberal and conservative groups in the college are said to be sufficiently strong to defeat the other.

A possible successor has not yet been suggested. Cardinal La Fontaine, who is generally regarded as a likely candidate, being unopposed by either party, said, "It would be a miracle if a pope leaves a cardinal." He pointed out the error of previous predictions and the failure of heretofore boomed aspirants.

Church and State.

The newspapers still mainly are concerning themselves with the question of a rapid reconciliation between the church and state. Government and church organs both are explaining in great detail that no official relations have been established.

The government on one side repeatedly denies assertions that a prince visited the body of the pope at St. Peter's, explaining that the ordering of the flag at half mast, the closing of the theaters on the day of his death and the schools on Monday and also the commemoration services proposed for parliament all are in accordance with the laws and guarantees extended on the capture of Rome from the papacy. On the other side the church insists that an official notification of the pope's death was sent to the government.

Critics point out the inconsistency of the government's attitude since it neglected similar courtesies at the deaths of Pope Pius XI and Leo XIII.

Black Pope Speaks.

Father Ledochowski, general of the Society of Jesus, known as the Black Pope and one of the most influential prelates in the Catholic world, in a long interview with a reporter for the Popolo Romano deplored rumors that his organization is using its influence to elect the pope.

"Whoever is elected is worthy and chosen under God," he asserted. He added that no pressure of any kind is being used and also that he would pursue any subordinate function he is having influence. He himself, he asserted, is refusing to see his friends to avoid charges of meddling in Vatican politics.

GERMANY SENDS ITS ANSWER AND GOLD TO PARIS

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

BERLIN, Jan. 27.—The German answer to the reparations commission giving Berlin's plans for improving the nation's financial situation, was dispatched to Paris this evening. It is semi-officially declared that the answer was couched in general and guarded terms, which is an excellent index to the interior political situation.

The plan is en route to Paris by special courier and also the $1,000,000 gold marks ($7,750,000) which are due tomorrow, according to the ten day plans agreed upon.

Despite yesterday's so-called tax compromise, it is growing plainer that matters are approaching a climax in Germany. Chancellor Wirth is no longer certain that his policy of reparations fulfillment, upon which is based a sort of recognition of Germany, will result in acceptance without approval. For example, the reactionary papers today, in commenting on the former kaiser's sixty-third birthday, are openly extolling the former ruler and wishing him a speedy return.

The Kreuz Zeitung says: "For us royalists the oath of fidelity to the kaiser still remains. Only death can release us from the oath. We preach the overthrow of the present system not secretly, but publicly, so that the world may know that Prussia is not dead."

The Socialist opposition to the former kaiser, of course, is still bitter. Wilhelm is termed the "crowned despot," but it is evident that there is an increasing popular swing toward the monarchists. A year ago the Kreuz Zeitung was mild, today it is publishing the prewar slogan: "With God, for king and fatherland."

ASPIRATIONS OF WORKERS WORRY TO BOLSHEVIKS

Plan to Thwart Ambitions.

BY DONALD DAY.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Copyright: 1922. By The Chicago Tribune.
RIGA, Jan. 27.—With the wage scale reinstated in Russia and with soviet workers lining up every Saturday for their fat pay envelopes containing a few hundred thousand or so soviet rubles, a new problem has come before the executive committee of the various professional unions, which correspond to our trade unions in America.

Ambition a Bother.

This problem is how to counteract the desire of the union man to carve out a career for himself. The soviet journal Troad, the official organ of the trade unions, published in Petrograd, is now devoting lengthy articles to this subject. The writers find that a new worker's psychology is springing up to replace the class consciousness planted in the minds of the workers by the communist controlled soviets.

This feeling is urging many workers to save their rubles and to start a small store, or factory, of their own, and to become a political leader, according to the slow, top-heavy bureaucratic government of Russia today. The varying wage scales for the workers are also proving an incentive for labor to work for promotion.

Lid on Pay Rolls.

Writers in the Troad point out that since the soviet government must keep its pay rolls at the lowest possible figure, it must increase the number and efficiency of its workers that this impulse must be curbed.

Acknowledging that it is impossible entirely to curb these desires for advancement and for more money one writer urges that as a worker becomes efficient in his work and entitled to a higher salary, that he be transferred to another class of labor, and there begin again his climb up the wage scale from the bottom.

MOVIES AS SPELBINDERS.

The Rev. William H. Chase of Brooklyn, one of the advocates of restrictive laws lobbying in congress and now demanding rigorous federal censorship of the movies, told a senate subcommittee that the hiring of Postmaster General Will Hays by the producers was plain indication of an intent to put the screen into politics and to influence elections and decisions.

There is no law against the use of the movies in politics and there could not very well be one, any more than there could be a law against making political speeches in halls, expressing political opinions in newspapers, or using any other legal way of advocating measures and candidates.

If the movies got into politics and became great instruments of political persuasion censorship would be obliged to keep its hands off, unless political rights were to be obliterated. A censorship which tried to control political expression would be a dictatorship and it would violate the right of free speech.

There probably will be an increasing attempt to influence opinion by the screen. Recently there was what we think a bad attempt to pitch sentiment against sound judgment when a picture showed a fine American battleship with its flag flying. The inquiry asked the observer if he wanted to scrap that. That was part of the attempt to wreck the Washington agreement which has given the United States an assurance of peace for the next ten years.

If one side to a great argument uses the movies the other side will be obliged to. If one party uses them, the other party will. There will not be so much of it done. People go to political meetings knowing they will hear political speeches. They read the politics in the newspapers if they want to. They read political documents if they want to.

They go to movies primarily for amusement and when they have paid their money they take what they get. They cannot choose as they can in a newspaper. All they can do is to endure patiently what they do not like, or walk out.

If they have gone into a movie house to see a picture play and then get a dose of political argument there will be more complaining than the exhibitor will care to hear. A political publicity man will have a delicate job on his hands when he tries to use this medium. The influence is great, but the moving picture house is not a forum but a theater.

When attempts are made to use this influence they are for the most part indirect and insidious. The observer is not to know that some one is trying to create an impression and fix an opinion. A drama can have that object. An interesting bit of exposition can accomplish it, but the danger is always that of boring or annoying the public which is not asking the screen for information but for amusement.

Censorship has least of all a place in the possible political use of the movies. The producers and exhibitors have been using the screen to fight the blue law advocates, but censorship cannot stop them. People have a political right to oppose restrictive laws. The moving picture people fight them because advocates of blue laws would close moving picture theaters on Sunday.

The reform advocates said that the men controlling the moving picture industry intended to control the politics of the country and elect to congress only such men as would do their bidding. That is a large order, but the program could not be stopped, even if it were entertained, by having a board of censors say what opinions might be expressed on the screen and what sentiments might not be, providing the expressions did not violate the general laws of the land.

A TRICK OF THE SEAWAY OPPONENTS.

Representative Reed of New York has introduced in congress a counter proposal to the St. Lawrence seaway project which now bears the endorsement of the International Joint Commission which has been studying the seaway with the assistance of competent government engineers for many months, the endorsement of President Harding, and the endorsement of eighteen middle western states, besides innumerable civic and commercial organizations.

The proposed plan is for an all-American ship canal from Lake Ontario to the Hudson river. It appears to be nothing more or less than a cleverly conceived scheme to appeal to superficial patriotism and prejudice to divide the organized support in congress in favor of the St. Lawrence route.

One indication of this purpose is visible in the fact that the scheme is sponsored by Millard F. Bowen of Buffalo. Buffalo has always been an irreconcilable opponent of the St. Lawrence seaway, because Buffalo is now the point of transhipment of lakes cargoes to the New York state barge canal, and fears it will lose this toll taken from middle western producers if such shippers can send their goods direct to foreign markets through the St. Lawrence seaway. Suggestion of an alternative route, therefore, is immediately subject to well founded suspicion when such suggestion originates in Buffalo.

Further evidence that the new plan is not practical and is offered chiefly to cloud the issue and prevent congressional authorization of the St. Lawrence seaway lies in the fact that virtually the identical route was examined by a board of United States engineers twenty years ago, and was recommended in 1920 and reported unfavorably.

The cost of this shipway would be double that of the St. Lawrence improvement, and even though it were financed by private capital as provided, shippers eventually would have to pay this cost. Also on the proposed all-American route there would be approximately twice as many miles of restricted channel, five times as many locks, and more than six times the time lost owing to nesary slowing down of ships in transit. Also the distance from the Ontario entrance through the new shipway to Liverpool would be more than 400 miles greater than the distance from the same point on the lake to Liverpool via the St. Lawrence route.

These are only a few of the arguments against the New York shipway. There are many others, but these serve to prove the impracticability of the project, and that it is really designed chiefly to split support of the St. Lawrence seaway. Middle westerners who have influence in congress, and congressmen who have the good of the country at heart, should not be deceived.

THE I. C. THE FIRST SUBWAY.

The Illinois Central makes one section of the city rejoice by announcing positively that electrification will start within three months. All the city has a stake in this in so far as the proper development of the lake front depends upon it; but for the south side served by the railroad as intramural rapid transit it means that something about as good as a subway will be provided, while the rest of the city is wondering when the city administration or a city administration will start the subway fund to digging subway dirt.

Vice President A. S. Baldwin said the railroad plans to ask that the electrified suburban system be given connections with the subway, if the city ever gets one. That would seem to be highly desirable. The Illinois Central is at the eastern border of the city downtown, but as it goes south it cuts through the heart of a great district, and subway laterals from it would connect its rapid service with distributing lines.

Objectors will say that a corporation benefits; but the main thing to be sought is the advantage, the comfort, and the profit of the car user, who is at present an utterly negligible element in Chicago traction. He has obtained nothing for many years. Much talk is made of him, but little by him and nothing is done for him.

If this illuminating truth ever penetrates through the patience of the car users this may be a mad city. It may never get decent transportation until it does get thoroughly mad.

YOUTH WILL BE SERVED.

Many readers, no doubt, will remember childhood adventures of swimming, skating, baseball playing, bicycle riding, and such, accomplished through strategic dodging of the parental eye, and at imminent risk of unpleasant disciplinary measures. To such readers, we believe, such memories are highly valued treasures. They carry us back to our youth. They make us truly young, for a time, in mind and emotion. They are refreshing, stimulating, and valuable.

But as the years go by, and in growing fear that we might skid to disaster, we sink deeper and deeper into the rut of commonplace life, such memories recur less and less frequently. When they came to us through a lively tale before the fireside at 20, perhaps, we definitely intended that some time we would have another and greater adventure. When they recurred again at 45 through reminiscence with a childhood friend, we hoped life might bring us such another thrill. But at 60 the vast majority of us merely regret that the time for adventure and thrills is past. We see that youth will be served, but admit sadly that we are no longer youths.

Comes then the telegraphed story of William M. LeMoine, a 72 year old Chicago business man, who, the other day, traveled by airplane from Long Beach, Cal., to San Francisco, a distance of some 500 miles. He had gone to California on business, and determined to have a trip in an airplane "while the wife wasn't around to object." And he had it, and no doubt had a thrill out of it. More power to his wings.

We sincerely hope Mrs. LeMoine will not be too rough with him when he comes home. He has accomplished a great thing, not only for himself, but for many a boy of 40 or 50 or 60, who has supinely submitted to the belief that his youth was gone forever. The spirit of youth is not so easily killed if we would keep it alive; and it will be served. Mr. LeMoine, at 72, proves it.

PUNISH THE GUN TOTER.

The New York police commissioner reports that crimes of violence or serious felonies have been on the decline in that city since 1916. A comparison of the last quarter of 1920 with that of 1921 shows 73 murders for the former to 54 for the latter.

A comparison with our own records would be interesting. The New York official does not give the year's record, but the winter quarter is not likely to be below the average, and murders therefore may be assumed to have been about 200 for the year.

In Chicago there were 245 killings in which guns were used. New York has a population of 5,600,000 to our 2,700,000.

The TRIBUNE's proposal for a prohibition of private manufacture of revolvers has been taken up by twenty judges of the Superior court—Justice J. O'Connor of the Appellate court has been a vigorous advocate of this reform—and it may be hoped that, with so authoritative an endorsement, a strong movement may be now got under way.

Meanwhile, may we suggest that juries, judges, and magistrates use their existing powers to punish those carrying more severely? We do not mean that law-abiding citizens should be penalized, but any criminal or undesirable caught armed should get the maximum sentence, whether he has used his weapon or not. The mere carrying of a gun by such a man proves he is prepared to use it if he thinks it will pay him to use it, and he deserves no mercy when brought to bar.

There can be no general disarmament until private manufacture is stopped, but pending such legislation our courts should be far more severe than they are on the carrying of deadly weapons by criminals and roughs of the quasi-criminal class.

FOLKS ARE THINKING.

[Orange Judd Farmer]

Reports from sessions of the Farmers' Institute in various parts of Illinois show that these meetings are better attended this year than for several seasons. The reason is stated by one leader to be that folks are hungry for real information that will help out their farming methods.

This is a significant indication. It points to readjustment of farming operations to fit conditions, which cannot fail to bring improvement. Maintenance of soil fertility, lower production cost, more production per man, these are subjects of basic importance which some men are studying today as they have not studied for a number of years.

CHAPTER XX.

Mrs. E. Johnston Johnstone-Tanyard felt that she was the happiest woman in Chicago. Mr. Baconeggs had disappeared and her daughter Muriel had no longer any thoughts of him, but was most devoted to her fiance, the Count Boreas Chokeancough. "Mooriel," said Mrs. Johnston-Tanyard, anxiously, "when we leave for Europe, I hope you will be satisfied. He is really a great bargain. What with such an upheaval in Europe, one would think kings and things would be all marked down to below cost, but they still come very high. You father and I did a lot of shopping before we selected Boreas. He is a trifle shopworn, but perfectly sound in wind and limb."

"Yes, ma," said Muriel, "I'm just crazy about the count."

"But, remember, Mooriel," Mrs. Johnston-Tanyard spoke sternly, "none of your girlish tricks at the altar. You are going through with this thing if I have to throw you down and hog-tie you."

"O, ma," said Muriel, laughing softly, "you are so suspicious."

"Well," said her ma, "when your wedding is pulled off there's going to be none of that waiting at the church thing, and as for sending back a wedding present, well, it would be just like sending back my right eye."

"Well, don't I think I will fail to perform when Eric Delamarster steps on the pedal and pulls the 'O, Promise Me, stuff,'" said Muriel. "Eric certainly swings a nasty pedal."

"The Count Boreas Chokeancough, Mr. Johnston-Johnstone-Tanyard, and the count's lawyer," said the butler as he threw the door wide open.

The party entered and Muriel rushed past him at the coat and shook hands.

"My lawyer here is to fix the papers how much you pay for me—when I marry zeos."

"Unrest, disease bearing foci in the body caused trouble in many."

Many cases were brought back to normal by correcting bad habits.

Note this statement: "Many cases of high blood pressure have been reduced, some very considerably, by careful regulation of diet and habits of life without any medication whatever."

"If the kidneys were normal, overactive constipation cured many. Some responded to a more limited diet. Some needed to change the character of their work."

By HARRY NEWMAN.

New York, Jan. 27.—[Special.]—Somewhat annoyed at the suggestion by Jack Kearns that he was not sincere in his intention to stage a Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills boxing match William A. Brady, the big theatrical manager, reiterated today his determination to go right through with his proposal to offer $200,000 if Dempsey is willing to meet the colored man, Wills.

It was evident from Mr. Brady's tone that he was not seeking any publicity in the matter, but that it was his mere love for the sport that had directed him in his desire to have Dempsey's absolute skill as a boxer tested in a bout with Harry Wills.

Will Post $50,000 Immediately.

"I don't care what anybody thinks about this matter. I want it understood that I stand prepared to go through with my offer of $200,000 for a Dempsey-Wills match. Together with this, I will post $50,000 in cash the moment that Jack Kearns or Jack Dempsey decides on accepting this offer."

"I do not think there will be any opposition to the general idea of a mixed match. There was some agitation against the idea following the Jeffries-Johnson fight, but it wasn't the black man's victory over the white man that brought it about. Johnson's habits and actions following that contest resulted in some severe criticism against a recurrence of mixed matches, but all that is all forgotten."

Discard Race Prejudice.

"It does not seem that there should be a rule against Dempsey meeting a black man. All these petty prejudices will be overcome, in my mind, and everything arranged for a battle between Jack Dempsey and Harry Wills."

"Just let them say the word and I will go through with my end of it."

TATE'S MANAGER BOILS

The first thing one knows this town won't hold Kid Howard, manager of Bill Tate, colored heavyweight champion of the world. He steamed a bit before last when informed that William Brady had offered a purse of $200,000 for a fight between Dempsey and Wills. When told last night that the offer seemed to be sincere, he just boiled over.

"It was all right to talk of a match between Dempsey and Wills when Wills was colored champion, but after he lost the title it seems rather strange that the boasting of a Wills-Dempsey battle should be kept on the fire. Wills lost his title one night and we gave him the chance to win it back a week later. This he couldn't do."

"Bill Tate is colored heavyweight champion and should be so recognized. He has the call for the battle if there is to be a mixed match. Tate can whip Dempsey, despite the fact that a good many people are of an opposite opinion. I have been in the business too long to pick on a 'dead one.' Tate is the live wire who wants to game right now and should not be side-tracked through the selfish desires of some promoter. I shall get in communication with Brady at once."

Forfeits were posted and other deprived us of our pilgrimages over the ice floes. Before the federal migratory law went into effect our best Chicago duck shooting was afforded on the floes. One day we had an extraordinary opportunity to study Arctic nature. And I turn back to the log revealing an unusual event in that day's observations. In part it reads:

It was a strategic spot we chose for shooting—an island of ice beautiful in the sunshine, where the floe surface was all a sparkle. We set our decoys on the outer bar; and here on a ground-ice, blinded behind our upturned punt, we had splendid shooting.

About noon we observed that we were in a much or piece of brush floating toward us. Perhaps a castoff Christmas branch. We paid little attention to it and it soon disappeared. Presently the branch reappeared, coming to the surface near a small floe. At the floe's center we noticed a wave fissure, and on the sunny side of the little ridge crouched a dark object—whether beast or bird we could not determine. And now, still

Featured by the performance of Loren Murchison of the I. A. C., who won the seventy yard dash in the world's record time of 9.71.5, athletes representing the Tri-color club last night romped away with honors in the fifth annual indoor track and field games of the I. A. C. staged in the Broadway armory.

Coach Johnny Behr's Tri-color team garnered eighty-one points, while Northwestern university, under the able tutelage of its new coach, Frank Hill, was second with nineteen points, and University of Chicago third with sixteen points.

The Ames relay team easily defeated Chicago in the match two mile relay race. The Hawkeyes led the Midway quartet across the tape by three-quarters of a lap.

Joe Ray, the great middle distance runner of the I. A. C., showed he was in form by stepping the mile in 4:23.4.5. The Tri-Color club medley relay team gave Northwestern a lap and won by fifteen yards.

Events for junior members of the I. A. C. completed an interesting program which was seen by a capacity crowd. Summaries:

St. Paul Star Enters Race for Tribune Derby Skates

That local stars who are entered in the boys' senior race, one of the features of The Tribune's annual silver skate derbies, to be held on the Humboldt park lagoon on Feb. 5, will have to look to their honor, was shown yesterday, when the entry of Pat Corcoran of the Lake Park club of St. Paul was received.

Corcoran is joint holder of the amateur skating championship of the Twin Cities. In the competition held last year, the Gopher expert tied with "Duke" Donovan with 90 points. According to information received from St. Paul Corcoran is one of the best skaters developed in the northwest years, including Everett McGowan, who recently turned professional, who recently turned professional.

Record Entry Is Assured.

So confident are skating fans in the Twin Cities that Corcoran will win the boys' silver skate derby that they have started to take up subscriptions among the skaters to defray Pat's expenses.

With the assurance of the trip, Corcoran is training daily in St. Paul, and it will be up to the local stars to keep the prizes among Chicago skaters.

John L. Flavin, president of the South Side Skating and A. C., will send a strong team to the mark in the four derbies. Helen Royle should be a strong contender for honors in the girls' senior derby, while Anna Simmons will be a star in the junior women.

E. B. G.: I'm awful glad to be of service to you, even though you're not a movie star. Rita Jolivet was the actress who played in "Theodora." The scenes were taken in Rome and near there. So you don't like the "triangle" pictures? Well, they have to be well done and to present some new angle or other to interest anybody. Won't you please write again some time? We love to make new friends in this office.

EDITH W.: Rudolph's address? Sure. Only, you know, he spells it Rudolf now. (Which ought to make you tired. It does me.) Address—7139 Hollywood boulevard, Los Angeles.

MISS E. W.: 7139 Hollywood boulevard, Los Angeles.

HELEN: Ye gods! Read "Close-ups" following. "Blood and Sand" will be his next feature. He appeared in "Camille" with Nazimova. You know, I think he's in the wrong business. He ought to tour the country as a hypnotist.

H. T.: Yippy, I'm funny, all right. O, call her Montelais D'Alion. Y'wuk-kum.

MICHIGAN: Both Pauline Frederick and Katherine MacDonald have been married. Vy?

E. D.: Constance Talmadge played the Mountain Girl in "Intolerance." Glad you wrote.

CLOSEUPS

Well, well! Well, well! Babe Daniels is striding right along! She's to be costarred with Wallace Reid in "Nice People." Reckon that'll make a lot of you jealous—what?

Mary Miles Minter, resting at home, is said to be eagerly awaiting the return of Mother Minter from New York. It is said that that lady went there for the purpose of making business arrangements for daughter, who is contract free at present.

Rudolph Valentino, tell me, is to be Rudolph no longer. Rudolf will be his name. Fudge!

"Boy Crazy" will be Doris May's next picture.

Young Master Wesley ("Freckles") Barry, who arrives in our wind-blown city today, will start right in getting busy. First he'll officially open the recruiting drive of the U. S. Junior Naval Reserve in the office of Mayor Thompson. Then he'll present the mayor with a basket of oranges sent with the compliments of the mayor of Los Angeles. Afterward he'll parade with the Juniors, of which company he is a member.

"Freckles" is accompanied by his best friend, "Toots," who is a dog, and by his tutor, "(Toot) Toot."

The following letter was published to correct an error which appeared in the November Classic:

My Dear Mr. Ashworth: Enclosed please find a little clipping from November's Classic magazine in "The Answer Man" column. May I ask you to kindly inform the Answer Man that my husband (Rudolph Valentino) is not a single man, and that I, known on the screen as Jean Acker, do not wish to be spoken of as having been married to him, but I am still.

And I herewith wish to add further that I know of no divorce proceedings, so this being the facts, would your magazine from now on inform its public fan admiring of Mr. Valentino's that he and his wife are perfectly good friends and, as far as I am concerned, expect to remain married to him for a long time. Sincerely,

MRS. RUDOLPH VALENTINO.

Vague on Ducks.

I was in absolute ignorance concerning hunting terms until last week, when I made a ridiculous break.

Some friends of mine were discussing a hunting trip and one of them said, "We just couldn't see those decoy ducks at all."

I innocently remarked, "Well, perhaps they flew away."

Amid the general hoots of derision that followed I resolved to learn all there was to know about hunting.

Almost Too Lifelike.

While attending a government display of armaments several years ago, with a large party of friends I stopped to examine a large gun used on battleships.

At the breach of the gun stood a wax sentinel in full sailor garb and it looked so lifelike it touched the cheek. To my dismay and to the delight of the others of my party, the waxen figure slowly turned its head and gave me a perfect smile.

We had just before this occasion been admiring some wax figures that were dressed in the navy uniforms. J. G.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

Cornmeal Rolls.

Perhaps a safe rule for a cornmeal muffin batter is that it will run out smooth before it is put into the oven. This is not a bad rule for a plain four muffin, but the stiff batter of all four might make tolerable eating, while one of part cornmeal would be unsightly and too stiff to be palatable.

A great number of cook books give a cornmeal muffin recipe which contains twice as much flour as corn meal.

Mrs. Hill's formula reads: "One-and-a-half cup of flour, two-thirds cup of sugar, two eggs, one cup of milk, two cups of corn meal, four teaspoons of baking powder, one-fourth cup of oil and four teaspoons salt."

Now, if you divide this formula by two exactly you will find that you get much too stiff a batter. But try it this way: One cup of white flour, one-half cup cornmeal, four tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon of baking powder—it is ample—one-half teaspoon of salt, one egg, from three-quarters to a cup of milk, and two tablespoons of melted butter, added last. This with the egg makes a full cup of liquid and not too much. Bake in hot, well buttered iron roll pan.

DAILY HOROSCOPE

Doris Blake Says:

If your birthday is today, you are

RETIRING.

A sensitive desire to retire within yourself exerts a paralyzing influence upon those around you. You are submissive, rather than aggressive. "Fight it out" was not coined advice for you. You are too dignified to indulge in vulgar brawls. Not that you are weak and faint hearted. You are determined at heart and push your arguments and reforms in a quiet, persistent, logical way.

To Much Responsibility.

Dear Miss Blake: My girl friend—who is 18, and two years my senior—and I live together, both of us having been left orphans a year ago, when our parents were killed in an automobile accident. Recently she met a widower, who has two children, and with whom she is deeply in love. He has asked her to marry him, but I told her I doubted if she would ever be happy with him, as she is too young to assume the care of his two children. Am I right?

"ANXIOUS."

A pretty big job for an 18 year old girl to tackle, isn't it dear? I think it is hardly fair to ask it of her. I think you would better try to persuade her not to marry for a few years anyway. By that time she may have met some one who would seem more suitable.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

EDITH: TO TAKE THE STING out of calluses, soak the feet in hot water for fifteen minutes at night before retiring. This will soften the skin. Then rub with a piece of pumice stone, removing as much as you can of the callus. Do not cut with a knife or razor. In the morning wash with a cold cream or vaseline. A handful of sal-soda added to the water will help greatly. Apply spirits of camphor on a piece of cheesecloth to blisters that come from perspiration.

MARY E.: THE RED NOSE AND cold feet and hands are due to poor circulation, undoubtedly. How about a nice little three mile walk a day? And a cold shower in the morning, followed with a vigorous rub down?

DEMAND LANDIS RESIGN AS WAGE DISPUTE UMPIRE

Building Trade Foes Send Him a Petition.

That a demand has been made by anti-Landis award leaders of the Building Trades council on Judge Landis to resign as arbiter of building wage disputes and wages became known last night. The petition in which his resignation was urged was sent to him following a recent election in the council at which candidates opposed to the Landis award were successful.

A committee from the council will wait on Judge Landis today seeking his reply to the petition.

In the meantime officials of the building trades union will not participate in the conference of builders to be held this morning at the Chicago Beach hotel, called by Judge Landis to arrange a new wage scale for the building trades, to become effective on June 1.

Why They Want Him Out.

In the petition asking Judge Landis to resign it was stated that such action on his part is imperative because of existing conditions confronting the council. It also was asserted that should the jurist agree to withdraw as umpire, the unions could make new agreements with individual contractors and thereby establish peace in the building industry.

However, according to the best information available, Judge Landis will not quit. In a resolution adopted recently by the Associated Builders of Chicago a declaration was made that full support of the organization would be given Judge Landis and, under no circumstances would they consent to his withdrawal as arbitrator. The Building Construction Employers' association has pledged similar support.

No Changes Expected.

Officials of the two large associations of contractors have intimated that they will ask no changes in the wage provisions of the original Landis award.

Todays meeting is in conformity with a clause in the Landis award which provides that all wage and working disputes between unions and employers should be settled by Feb. 1, so building activities in the spring would not be hampered.

William Schlaik and William McKinley will represent the Associated Builders of Chicago at the conference and Edward M. Craig will present arguments for the Building Construction Employers' association.

More Strikes Called.

Strikes have been called on eighty-five jobs, according to Harry Jensen, president of the Carpenters' District council. Yesterday strikes were called on seventeen jobs and the day before on thirty-eight jobs. Jensen said. He also declared business agents today will order the men from thirty-eight buildings under construction. Most of these are on the north side and in Evanston.

According to a report given out by the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award, the strike of laborers hasn't materialized to any great extent.

Members of the "contractors'" committee find it a common occurrence for business agents of the laborers' union to call strikes in the afternoon and in the morning see the unions move back asking for work," the report states.

Following the confirmation of the report that the steamfitters had engaged in sympathetic strikes on a number of jobs, the Chicago Master Steamfitters' association through their arbitration board gave the steamfitter union officials with an ultimatum that the men must be back to work at the wages and under the conditions fixed by Judge Landis in his award. The time limit of the ultimatum expires at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

GIRL'S ABDUCTOR WILL NOT REVEAL PLACE OF HIDING

Despite repeated examinations by the police Clayton Merwin, 25, 2005 Prairie Avenue, could not budge the stubborn silence as to the whereabouts of Frances Waddell, 19 year old high school girl, with whose abduction he is charged.

His case came before Judge Jacobs yesterday, but was continued at the request of Capt. Morgan Collier of the East Chicago avenue station, while a further search was made for the girl.

Merwin obtained the girl's release on a writ of habeas corpus from the House of the Good Shepherd, where she had been placed by her father, Arthur L. Waddell, 2302 Lunt Avenue, and the girl has not been heard from since. Merwin says he knows where she is, but he refuses to tell.

SMALL TO ENTER PLEA TODAY ON PLOT TO DEFRAUD

Gov. Len Small is expected to take the first step today toward the actual trial of his case since he was indicted more than six months ago.

He is scheduled to appear before Judge Claire C. Edwards at Waukegan and enter his plea in answer to the charges against him. His plea will be that he is not guilty. This will be followed immediately by arguments upon the motion for separate trials for the governor and his co-defendant, Vernon C. Curtis.

Chicago's twenty-second national automobile show will now open its doors at 2 o'clock this afternoon to disclose the choicest fruits of the world's finest industrial workshops. Eighty-one different makes of motor vehicles, some of them running to three, four and five models, are lodged in the colorful labyrinth of Coliseum Annex, and 1st regiment armory awaiting the inspection of the thousands of motor fans who yesterday flooded every hotel in the loop and near south side districts to make the most of the western annual motor holiday.

Preliminaries to the famous industrial exposition, registration of the motor claims, final touches to the myriad exhibits of cars and accessories, arrangements for the scores of nationally important industrial conferences which will mark show week, and the annual reunions of trail and factory veterans were concluded last night.

Barney Parades in "Oldster."

A feature of the day included a triumphal parade of more than 200 cars behind Barney Oldfield, who piloted the battle scarred vintage 1899 Locomobile which carried away the prize in this year's "old car contest."

The parade covered almost all of the Chicago boulevard system. In its line were cars of all models and dates from the original "horseless carriage" through the rear types to the present advanced highway roadsters.

It is estimated that at least 50,000 visitors will be introduced to Chicago's own brand of hospitality during the week. They represent not only all of the automobile manufacturing concerns and dealers' organizations, but also the true blue motor fan from every state in the middle west.

Schedule for Show.

Both the auto show proper and the annual salon at the Drake will open this afternoon. Coliseum doors will be closed at 10:30 p.m., to reopen Monday morning for the full week's run.

Last word models from England, Italy, Belgium, and famous shops in America are on exhibition in the salon.

Among the conferences scheduled for the week are: National Automobile Dealers' Association annual meeting, Jan. 30, and the Hotel La Salle; Oldtimers' club meeting at the Congress, Jan. 30; Michigan Automobile Association, Morristown, Jan. 31; Automotive Electrical association, Hotel La Salle, Jan. 31-Feb. 2; Society of Automotive Engineers, Drake, Feb. 1.

RICHARD A. BRISCOE.

After being arrested twice on charges of passing off as a diamond ring, preferred by Mrs. F. A. Dillingham, 629 Sheridan road, Richard A. Briscoe, her former secretary, did some warrant swearing himself. As a result, Mrs. Dillingham surrendered at the Town Hall police station yesterday afternoon on a warrant charging her with assault with a deadly weapon.

Briscoe, imported from San Francisco, had been living with a Chicago girl after his arrival here. He and his bride went to California, from where he returned at his employer's insistence. But he wasn't the same secretary, she said.

LAYMEN WARNED LEPROSY STILL RETAINS FANGS

Mrs. Dollie Willis has been praying for strength to tell her husband that she had broken her marriage vows. She made the confession yesterday afternoon and the husband, Howard Willis, sought to kill Dr. M. H. Fash, the man she named, in his office at 2258 West Madison street.

Willis was arrested in his home, 2257 Monroe street, by Sergt. Thomas Mulcahy and John Martin of Warren street, who upon hearing the wife's story, likewise arrested Dr. Fash, who had been stabbed on the shoulder and cut about the hands as he struggled with Willis in taking the knife from him.

"I was going to surrender in the morning," Willis said. "I ought to have killed him, but I only intended to scare him, but he would always remember having ruined my wife. It happened a year ago, but I just heard it today. I went straight to his office."

6,000 Dance at Benefit for Heroes' Families

Six thousand fire dandies danced last night at Harmon's Dreamland to swell the fund for the families of the three firemen who lost their lives New Year's night in answering a false alarm.

Pipers in uniform acted as a floor committee under the supervision of Chief Thomas O'Connor, First Assistant Edward Buckley, John Cullerton, business manager of the department, and Battalion Chief Patrick Egan.

Treated cases are not dismissed from the Hawaii institutions as "cured," but are "paroled" when they no longer exhibit clinical evidence of leprosy and the disease apparently has been arrested.

The results, however, have been so favorable as to lend a hopeful aspect to the treatment of a disease which has long been regarded as hopeless and to lead us to believe that a therapeutic agent has been developed which surpasses anything brought forward to the present time.

FLOATERS PROUD OF THEIR PLACE AS INDUSTRY COGS

Adversity Doesn't Jolt Their Optimism.

This is the fourth and concluding article in a series by Mr. Evans recounting his observations among Chicago's floaters, his data being gained during three days and nights he spent among them.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.

Self-respect runs vastly higher among the "floaters" than many casual observers have noted. The perigrinating worker takes the attitude that migratory labor fills a perfectly honorable place in the industrial system. Somebody, he says, has to do the rough work when it is there to do—and hand him any old job and he'll pay him for it.

This goes for about two out of every three men among the 30,000 transients in the flop and lodging house district. It does not apply to about one-third, say 9,000, all told, embracing the professional beggars, the bums, the dopes, alcoholics, and disease reeking wrecks, the crooks, hardened panhandlers, and "Weary Willies," who regard work as poison—a class quite separate from the bona fide floating worker.

Here's Their Philosophy of Life.

Sunday night at Hogan's flop a powerful marine fireman uncurred himself from a newspaper on the floor near the stove.

"Life is only a question of getting by," he said. "Twenty years' work and here I'm in a flop. But I've seen the world and had a good time. Look at the tenant farmer today. He's worked as hard as I have, he hasn't got the world, yet what has he got? A bunch of unpaid bills at the store and maybe a few at the bank. He's got world, which he makes it."

"Do you believe in having a gun in your home?"

Where Asked: In the corridors of the Chicago public library.

The Answers: Edward M. Peterson, 3918 North Mozart street, library assistant—I have a gun in my home for protection. I would keep it in my home for protection. But a loaded gun and children are not playmates. An unloaded gun of course is not protection.

Mr. Dena Benbrook, 2108 Birchwood avenue—No. You may never have a burglar or other intruder enter your house. Guns have done a lot of harm among adults, to say nothing of the untimely deaths among children. The evils of the trade union movement. Among unskilled casuals, they say, organization is impossible.

As to radical movements, in speaking of the apparent collapse of the I. W. W., they say even at its height it was simply a fighting, vociferous minority that intimidated the others.

"Direct action and proletarian control" said a logger at the Helping Hand mission. "They are forgotten words today. Look at Russia."

Not Union, but for Unions.

Being ordinary labor and unorganized, few of the "floaters" are union men. Almost invariably, however, they speak with great respect of trade unionism. As expressed by scores, their attitude is that all labor has been more or less the beneficiary of the trade union movement. Among unskilled casuals, they say, organization is impossible.

As to radical movements, in speaking of the apparent collapse of the I. W. W., they say even at its height it was simply a fighting, vociferous minority that intimidated the others.

"Direct action and proletarian control" said a logger at the Helping Hand mission. "They are forgotten words today. Look at Russia."

And Prohibition—Not for Them.

Prohibition? Nearly every man spoken to, in flops, Bible missions, "scratches houses," hotels and lodges houses, declares it was a bad thing. They said it did not lead transient labor to increase its demands for the minimum wage, in this class is improvident. Moonshine and white mule, ethyl and methyl, bootlegging and drug store booze slinging, they say, are a worse evil than the original.

Would most of them work? To illustrate, on Monday eighty-five men worked half an hour in the lumber yard of the Helping Hand mission to get a flop and breakfast, while at some other places they might have got free. For two-thirds of the 20,000 both menial and domestic men in this class are regarded only as the extreme resort. In the faces of many one sees evidence of prolonged undernourishment. Yet the general note is cheerfulness.

"I'm philosophical," said an Irish-American stevedore at the Acme hotel. "Never too hungry to laugh at the funny side. I pick up a paper and read about Europe owing us $10,000,000,000 and get wised up on the financial situation; everything in bloom. Then we'll get by somehow until warm weather."

FIRST NATIONAL BANK FLOOR TO BE BLOCK LONG

Preliminary steps were taken yesterday to begin the work of the First National bank, the largest banking firm in Chicago, with considerably more space than occupied by the Continental and Commercial National, at present the biggest in area.

This will be accomplished by erecting a twenty-one story $1,000,000 building at 31 to 35 South Clark street, on the 48x90 site of the one time Valey hotel. This is directly north of the Fort Dearborn bank building and west of the First National. The three buildings will be made into one great structure which will cover practically the entire south half of the block bounded by Monroe, Clark, Madison, and Dearborn, with the exception of one little parcel, 25x36, owned by the Morrison hotel, which it is presumed will be acquired.

The elevators of the Fort Dearborn building and the west bank of lifts in the First National building will be installed in the new Clark street annex and the banking floors, both on the first and second story levels of the two buildings will be connected.

This will give two magnificent banking floors extending from Dearborn to Clark street, and half a block wide. Graham, Anderson, Probst & White are drawing the plans.

WARD & CO. WILL READJUST VALUE OF ITS COMMON

BY O. A. MATHER.

The forthcoming annual report of Montgomery Ward & Co., the Chicago mail order concern, is expected to show a readjustment in valuation of the common stock in order to meet operating and inventory losses last year, which are expected to run close to $6,000,000.

It is understood the directors are considering this plan. One is to give the common stock, which now is "nonpar," a $10 per share premium. The other plan is to continue the nonpar status of the stock, but to carry the shares at a nominal value of $5 a share, as required by the Illinois law. In the balance sheet as of Dec. 31, 1920, the shares were carried at $30, that being the price at which they originally were sold by the company.

Loss Wipes Out Surplus.

The company on Dec. 31, 1920, showed a surplus of $24,297,722, which is insufficient to cover last year's loss. But by either of the plans under consideration the loss could be written off. At the close of 1920 there were 856,251 common shares outstanding, carried at $25,675,620. Last February an additional 255,000 shares was exchanged for 250,000 shares issue of class B stock. This would make 1,141,251 shares of common outstanding, which if carried at $30 a share would aggregate $34,177,530.

If the common stock were charged to par value, it would be carried at $31,412,510 and $22,725,020 could be transferred to surplus, making total surplus $25,154,792 before deducting the 1921 loss, and between $19,000,000 and $20,000,000 after deducting the loss. If the common stock is kept "nonpar" and carried at $5 a share, the surplus after deducting last year's loss would be about $5,000,000.

Little Effect on Market Value.

The market value of the common stock probably would not be affected much in the event of either plan being carried out, inasmuch as the shares would represent the same equity in the company as they now do. Either change, however, would place the company in a much better financial position.

The report is expected to show some compensation features for the 1921 losses. During the year the outstanding preferred stock was reduced from $30,000,000 to about $4,000,000 by purchase. Eventually, it is understood to be the plan of the company to buy in and cancel the whole issue.

The company has no funded debt and it is understood its bank loans have been reduced to about half of the $10,463,000 owed at the close of 1920. Besides the preferred and common stocks, the company now has 205,000 shares of class A stock. This issue, together with the former class B shares, was carried in the last balance sheet at $16,396.

Edison Proposed Up Feb. 27.

The stockholders of the Commonwealth Edison company at the annual meeting on Feb. 27 will vote on the directors' proposal to increase the authorized capital stock from $60,000,000 to $80,000,000. This is in line with the company's policy of financing its growth and expanding facilities through the sale of capital stock. The new stock will be issued only as new capital becomes necessary and is expected to cover such requirements for several years. No new stock will be sold this year. Last year the company added more than 60,000 new customers.

The McCord Manufacturing company has paid its creditors another payment of 5 per cent on claims. A payment of 10 per cent was made last August. The creditors claim originally totaled about $360,000. The creditors committee has asked for an extension of claims for six months from Feb. 11, the expiration date, and with privilege of a further six months' extension.

WHEAT RALLIES AND LEADS OTHER GRAINS HIGHER

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Failure of the wheat market to advance of late converted many of the recent bulls into believers in lower prices and left the technical situation strong. An unexpected advance of 1½ @ 1¾ d in Liverpool started the sellers of the previous day to buying freely, lifting prices sharply, and closing trades were within a fraction of the top, with net gains of ½@ 1¾c. May leading. Corn had a range of only ¼c and closed ½c higher, while oats were up 1c and rye 1c.

Strength in Liverpool was due mainly to short covering and the same was true of the upturn here, although there was fair buying by commission houses, including some credited to seaboard account. Buenos Aires, partly due to higher exchange rates, was up 2½c the opening and it helped along the advance. Drought conditions in Kansas.

With the exception of the official confirmation of continued drought in central and western Kansas and Oklahoma, there was little in the domestic news that was regarded as bullish. Milling demand remains slow with premiums at Minneapolis unchanged to 2c lower. St. Louis sold 27,000 bu red winter to mills at 102½c advance, but other markets were quiet.

Japan was reported as buying Australian wheat on a fair scale, and apparently there is more demand from importing countries than less pressure to sell. That the trade has been talking about Argentine wheat c. t. f. Europe was quoted as about equal in price to domestic hard winters from the Gulf, dull and were influenced to some extent by the action of other grains, closing fractionally higher.

Corn Futures Dull.

Export demand for cash corn at Chicago was much less active and with bids 14½c out of line no sales were reported, although some business was done from interior points.

Oats gained ½c on corn with a somewhat larger trade and closed about the top.

Houses with seaboard connections were good buyers of rye and it was understood that export business was on under cover. Duluth was the test seller.

Lard Advances on Rally.

Selling of lard credited to packers and scattered liquidation in May jobs carried prices off early, but the late strength in hogs and buying by houses with eastern connections brought about a rally toward the last, and closing trades were 6½c higher on lard and 1½c lower to 10c higher on ribs. Cash demand was less active. Prices follow:
